LARDNER PARK STEER TRIALS

The Lardner Park Steer Trials in Gippsland, Victoria are held over 3 months where steers are grass feed in the same environment & are weighed at monthly intervals so weight gain can be assessed. The trial provides an ideal opportunity for beef producers to compare their cattle under independently controlled grazing conditions. All steers are then slaughtered and evaluated at Radford's Abattoirs. Carcasses are evaluated using the Meat Standards Australia Measurement System (MSA) .

These are latest weigh-in results from the Lardner Park Trails include Lowline & LowlineX steers entered by ALCA members.

NEWS FROM ADELAIDE HILLS AND MID NORTH S.A.

Earlier in the year, Henson Park Stud was badly affected by the adjacent Wirabarra Forest bushfires which were followed by heavy rain and flooding which took out more of their fencing. They, unfortunately, lost sheep but their Lowlines were safe. Peter and Elizabeth are well known in their district for providing Lowline beef to their customers over many years.

Lowlines were exhibited at the Strathalbyn Show, apparently for the first time since 2002, last October. They attracted a lot of interest from people who knew of the breed but hadn't actually seen any before. Lowlines achieved 3rd & 4th placings in the British Breeds Section.

After a five-year break, Lowlines were welcomed back at the Mount Pleasant Show in March. A young teenager who was introduced to, and assisted with, Lowlines at the Royal Show last year, turned up at Mount Pleasant with a friend and pleaded to be allowed to lead a young bull and heifer. The "friend", who is experienced in handling race horses, was heard getting his instructions on the way to the ring.

Mount Pleasant is one of the larger regional shows in South Australia and attracts a lot of entrants and visitors each year. One of these visitors approached us to say that he was very happy with the Lowline bull he had purchased three years ago. The bull is quiet to handle and is not experiencing any more calving problems. He gets a little less at the market but he said that the advantages outweigh the price difference. He no longer has to buy a new bull each year and deal with their associated temperament problems.

It is apparent that there is a growing interest in Lowlines in this region but not all owners want to run a stud. A good commercial plan would bring these breeders together in the future.

There was a good attendance in the Barossa for the SA Promotion Group meeting held in May. The meeting was hosted by Alan & Susan Yates. A light lunch was provided and some of the local wine tasted. Eight members from the South-East of the state travelled up the day before and enjoyed an overnight stay and sightseeing in and around Hahndorf. Their support was much appreciated as they had all had a distance of 400-450kms to travel home. Overall, the round trip is the distance from Adelaide to Melbourne.

LOWLINE CERTIFIED BEEF

Hope you have had a successful year and have many calves on the ground. Have you noticed how many are bulls? As Julie Knight wrote in this year's ALCA Journal, not all of them are destined to be grand champion stud bulls – unfortunately! And even some of your heifers are perhaps not quite what you would like to have associated with your stud breeding program and bear your stud name. This is what breeding is all about – selecting and retaining your best animals and using them to breed forward. You want to choose the best and only the best for your herd and to represent your stud. So what do we do with the rest? Lowline Certified Beef is an outlet for these animals. How do you become involved?

Firstly, use the ALCA website classifieds to advertise what you want to be Lowline beef – others may want them for beef production. From weaners to steers to cull heifers, there is a classified space for you – and it's FREE, so give it a go! Really, what do you have to lose?

Secondly, look around your relatively local ALCA members – is there someone there producing beef you can help supply? Contact them and have a chat. Even if you only have the occasional steer or heifer, this will be a better market and provide a better return than sending them to the saleyards. Or if there isn't someone doing it now, perhaps you can work cooperatively and do so together? Check out the blog "Growing / Finishing for Meat" on the ALCA website about Ardrossan's 22 years of experience selling beef. Adopt some of the great ideas provided from years of experience. We have several members willing to provide advice and helpful hints on how to do this – all you need do is ask! Just drop a line to ALCA and they will redirect your enquiry to the appropriate members.

The ALCA website is available to all members and for viewing by the public. It can promote your animals to other beef breed producers or dairy farmers who buy your stud bulls and then provide an outlet for their cross-bred stock. Becoming a member of ALCA and signing the producers' agreement will give them access to this advertising tool.

Remember Lowlines are a beef breed – they are bred for meat, not milk. And it is in all of our interest's to do just that – produce the best quality beef that we can. This promotes our breed, as recognition as a seed-stock producer to produce quality beef gives added value to both our stud bulls and also to our registered females. And every ALCA member can be involved at some point in the supply chain.

We all need to be innovative and think outside the box. And since you are already involved with Lowlines you have demonstrated that you have these qualities – otherwise you would have chosen another breed. Let's make the most of what we have – traceability, great beef, unique genetics, quality markets, sustainability, efficiency. And maintain the quality of the stud animals you produce while getting a good return from those that don't meet your high standards. It may take a little effort, but producing the best always does.

YOUTH HANDLERS CAMP REPORTS

Handler's Camp Scholarship

My experience started with the long journey travelling down the centre of NSW and into VIC. When arrived in Shepparton I was nervous but very excited. As we pulled in the driveway of Whitby Farm owners Ken and Gill Lorains greeted us with open arms. They quickly invited us in there warm home and we sat around the table for a while having a chat about their farm and I spoke a lot about what experiences I have had with Lowlines.

Finally it was time to say good bye to Mum, then Ken and I headed out for the farm tour and do the morning feed. As we approached a paddock Ken showed me my animal for the Handlers Camp. She was a beautiful 12 month old heifer called Scotch Finger (AKA, Scotchy). She was very cautious of me and I was of her as I knew we needed to bond over the next 4 days. Everyday she would try and run away from me, but on that fourth day everything changed, I finally took her for walk up and down the driveway to her water. Finally she realised I wasn't going to hurt her I think we just clicked.

I had a few firsts whilst at Whitby Farm, Gill cooked for me Lowline Sausages, they were just beautiful. I clipped my first animal, unfortunately Scotchy was the first victim, though Ken seemed happy with it. Lastly I got to ride a quad bike it was a lot fun. The day arrived to head to Melbourne Show Grounds for the Handler Camp. Ken and I headed out for the morning feed then back to load the car with gear and load the heifers into the trailer.

After the 2 and a bit hour drive to Melbourne we arrived at the camp. I was scared as I didn't know anyone except the two other Lowline Scholarship winners (Catherine and Matt) as we met prior to camp. After a little while everyone bonded and were laughing and having a great time. The second day was clipping day, Paul (the intermediate instructor) showed us all about clipping our cattle. On day 3 of the camp, it was time for Scotchy and I to compete in the Handler's competition. We walk into the ring and everything seems great, until Scotchy refused to walk. After a few minutes of trying to get her to walk, Ken came to rescue and helped to get her moving. Although I didn't place anywhere I had fun and it was an experience I will never forget.

I highly recommend the Victorian Beef Cattle Handler's Camp to all age levels and experience. It was simply amazing. I've learnt so much to help me with my handling skills, showing ability and it has helped me make some career decisions going forward. I have made heaps of new friends who have the same interests as me, and I will be definitely recommending this Camp to anyone I meet. Lastly, I would like to thank the Lowline Association for giving me the amazing opportunity. A huge thank you to my host family Ken and Gill Lorains, for welcoming me into their home, giving me so much advice and allowing me to handle and show their cattle.

KEEN TEEN FOLLOWS HIS DREAMS

I was fortunate enough to win the 2014 Australian Lowline Cattle Association Scholarship for participation in the Stud Beef Victoria Cattle Handlers Camp and the opportunity for a 4 day Victorian Lowline Stud on farm experience. We were asked to write a short piece explaining what current involvement we had with the Australian Lowlines, how we became involved and what we would like to learn at the handlers camp. I was lucky enough to be 1 of 3 young people selected! I traveled down from Cann River to Melbourne and then to the Melbourne airport to meet Julie & Greg Knight from Wanamara Lowline Stud whom I was going to stay with for the stud experience. We got back to Wanamara Lowline Stud at Major Plains Victoria around 8.30 pm. We then got to meet and feed some of the cattle and have a quick look around as it was by now very dark. The next day we got to do some work with the cattle and I choose to work with Wanamara Strictly Ballroom who didn't quite like the idea of someone different handling her at that time! She did settle down very quickly and was a joy to work with as both her and myself started to develop a bond together. We got to wash, blow, feed and parade these young heifers around the farm. It was all a great experience and was terrific to see how another stud/farm operates and to compare it to what I currently do and the type of set up they used. We got to see an array of stud and commercial cattle that Julie owns and the crosses she uses e.g.: Lowline x Speckle Park. I really enjoyed it when we started breaking in a young bull named Phoenix as I love working with young bulls. I was also excited and looking forward to seeing for the first time a cow and calf I had purchased from Julie (Royal Opal & Opalite) and was impressed with my purchase of these animals. We also got to visit Ken & Gill Lorains from Whitby farm where we got to meet the other participant that also won the scholarship. Another wonderful moment for me was getting the chance to go to Dookie Agricultural College and look around the whole campus as I have thought about possibly studying Agriculture here in the future.

Now it was time to start the second half of the Scholarship - The Handlers Camp. Julie took us and the heifers we had been working with to the Melbourne Showgrounds where the camp was being held. I was glad we got to use the heifers we had been working with during the week as they were used to us after the time we had spent with them - in my case Strictly Ballroom. This was the first time they had traveled in a trailer and they behaved very well although I could tell they were glad to get off the trailer!!! We fed and watered the cattle, by the end of the night the heifers and I were all settled in. The camp started off with a very successful cattle/farmer based trivia night which was enjoyed by all. I had attended the camp last year so it was great to be back and see some familiar faces. In the morning we started washing the cattle to prepare them to be clipped later in the morning. Julie had already clipped the heifers so it was good to be able to watch the other cattle get clipped and have a go at clipping. We had a range of activities throughout the day which included judging tips, making halters, parading your animals, advice on how to make them look their best and just giving a hand to whoever needed it. I knew that Heather Corallo (from Riverside Ranges Lowline Stud) and who is fairly new to the industry was coming to the camp for the first time. I know Heather and Luci Corallo quite well and I was looking forward to giving a helping hand to Heather whenever needed. To see such a vast range of ages between the participants just shows that the cattle industry is enjoyed by all ages both younger and older. We finished off the night with a heifer dress- up competition which each group got given an allocated breed, funnily enough my group was allocated the Australian Lowline. We had to dress-up the heifer with an "Australian" theme and prepare a short speech about the breed. I got to parade the animal so I was dressed in all lowline gear: Lowline Chambray Shirt, Lowline Badges, Lowline Tie and Lowline Vest, all of which I had taken to the camp. Our heifer was dressed up in blue and had a jar of good old aussie vegemite around her neck!! It was a great addition to the camp and laughter was heard from everywhere. The next day was 'show day' where the heifers were judged on their structure and appearance not the handlers. It was a thrill to be able to prepare a heifer for a show and she did great, the judge Michael Ireland also commended me on my handling ability (which was a great feeling). Later that night we had handler judging which was really enjoyable. Strictly Ballroom behaved very well although she did hate the microphone! I ended up placing 4th out of 10 participants which was great! I was honoured to present the Junior Champion Parader Ribbon which was sponsored by my Auntie Vicki Gilbert from Rotherwood Lowline Stud. It was a very tiring day and I was glad to go to bed (I'm sure Strictly Ballroom was happy too!). The next day of the camp Junior Judging was held and the breed chosen was the Australian Lowlines. Five Lowline heifers were paraded for the Junior Judges to judge. Strictly Ballroom being one of the five and it was interesting to see how the Junior Judges differed in how they placed the heifers. The Judge Geordie Elliot ended up placing Strictly Ballroom 2nd out of 5. We ended the camp with a great band on our last night. I also entered a competition held by the SRPG to win an Australian Lowline Heifer which was generously donated by Ardrossan and Wanamara Lowline Studs. We had to write about why we would like to win a heifer and what we would do to manage, market etc her. The competition also included attending an interview with Bill Belton, Peter & Jeanette Stebbins and Allister Brookes. Having an interview was such a great experience. I would like to congratulate Sean Kallady and Hannah Phillips who won this competition and I hope success follows with their new heifer and Lowline Studs. I was just so glad I had the opportunities offered and I would recommend it to anyone and everyone. I learnt how to prepare my animal properly and just general animal husbandry and safety. I would like to thank ALCA for sponsoring this Scholarship, Lucy Kuipers for all the work she has put in on running this activity and all the encouragement she has given me and other youth members, Julie & Greg Knight and Ken & Gill Lorains for allowing us to come to your farm/s and see all the cattle and for letting us use your heifers at the camp and last but not least, my Auntie Vicki Gilbert for introducing me to the amazing Australian Lowlines and supporting me in all that I do. I hope to be attending the camp next year as I feel you can never stop learning and its always going to be beneficial to both the animals and you.

My Australian Handlers Camp ExpeRIENCE

After my first ever flights, one from New Plymouth and then a connector at Auckland to get to Melbourne, I landed at Tullamarine airport at 5.30pm. I lost two hours on the flight so my body clock was a bit put out!

I was picked up by Julie Knight and 1 and a half hours later we were at her home.

What I noticed while being driven was the red red soil and the amount of trees.

Julie and her family made me feel very welcome. I spent four days with them, some shopping, some site seeing and four hours a day with the cattle. While driving to and from places I noticed Camels grazing amongst the sheep and horses!

On July 2nd we loaded the cattle and all the equipment and travelled to the Melbourne Show grounds.

The usual unloading and settling of animals was done before our welcome speech for everyone. After this we were given our bibs for our respective age groups.

We ate dinner around about 6pm, then we played trivia in a game group, checked the cattle and helped clip some of the other cattle.

Breeds that were present included everything except Hereford, much to my amazement, completely opposite to New Zealand.

Next day, 3rd July, we were up early at about 4am to clean cattle beds under the watchful eyes of experienced handlers who had been there before to make sure we did it to the required standard.

We then washed our animals and blow dried them, took them to the stalls and fed them. They were fed nuts and a fiber type feed similar to NZ's Fiber Fresh. Everyone sat in for a Performance Feeds educational session to explain the difference in feeding different animals for different purposes, ie steers are fed differently to incalf heifers or cows. It was very informative and I learned some valuable points to use in the future.

Lowlines in Australia are mated at 19 months, five months ahead of when we mate them here.

There were other chores including polishing halters, feeding and watering and the never ending bed cleaning.

The 3rd day, 4th July, we started all over again, but this day included learning about clipping and grooming. The Aussie's do a lot of clipping! They showed us how to groom to enhance muscle, back end width and length, but don't actually clip the whole animal.

On this day we did our heifer/bull classes and it took most of the day because of the high number of animals, then we had a tea break before going into do our handler classes at around 8pm.

The 4th day, 5th July, we got up early and helped the juniors get cleaned up and prepared for their handlers classes.

Handlers' classes of all ages are high profile. The handlers are dressed up to the nines with jewelry, flash long sleeved shirts, fancy belts and cowboy boots, with neat wide brimmed hats.

That night they had a band playing and we all had a great time playing games and socializing.

July 6th was a day of Presentations and cleaning up, loading cattle and gear.

I was picked up after camp by Tonia Goodman and taken home to her place to spend the night as she is closer to the airport for my flights home the following day.

I really enjoyed my trip, learnt some really good things, made some hopefully lifelong friends and got a new nickname. Some of us ended up with nicknames for one reason or another and I was known as "Kiwi!"

This trip will help me with a career as a livestock agent and hopefully is the first step for me to become a Beef Judge. I also want to pass on my handling skills to anyone who wants to handle and show beef cattle.

There were so many entries to go to camp that I am very grateful to have been chosen. The council only usually allow for two entrants but couldn't separate the last three of us so we all were accepted.

I really would love to go back next year and learn some more.

I loved Australia and the people who took care of me were amazing.

I also had help from friends here at home (they know who they are) and I am very very grateful

Yours in the Love of Lowlines

Lowline heifer winner Hanna Phillips with Jeanette Stebbins, Ardrossan Lowline Stud

All handlers at the camp were eligible to apply to win two Lowline heifers - a task involving an interview and application process and an assessment of their ability.

Congratulations to Hanna and Sean on their success – we will be hearing more from them in the future no doubt!

And many thanks to Ardrossan and Wanamara studs for their generous donation to our youth members!

There are already plans for next year's youth handlers camp so keep up to date on the website and both facebook pages!

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The AGM was held in Brisbane on the weekend of the 18th and 19th of October and was a very successful and productive weekend.

On the Saturday a forum of members was held and a variety of issues were raised and discussed to formulate a progressive and inclusive plan for the development of the breed. It was terrific to see such a range of members present from all over Australia – NSW, QLD, SA, VIC, TAS and New Zealand. It was invigorating to have a consensus of opinion from all on so many matters and from such diverse locations. It became obvious that all present had the interests of the breed at heart which is a great positive for the Lowline breed.

It was also great to see how much has been achieved since the last AGM and forum and how well received this progress has been. Many thanks to Bill Belton for his tireless work in ensuring that this was achieved in such a short time frame and to all Council members for their efforts in keeping the association moving forward.

The AGM and subsequent Council meeting endeavoured to distill the ideas generated from the forum. The input and sharing of ideas and successes from the various promotion groups was of huge benefit to all present and no doubt many activities and innovative promotions will result with support from all those PG members. A huge thank you to all the promotion group representatives that attended! Keep an eye on the website and this newsletter for information of what is happening as they come up – the calendar is just the first of many things in the pipeline!

Lowline calendar competition

ALCA is inviting all members, youth and schools included, to enter photos into a 2016 Australian Lowline Calendar. Winning photos of each category will win one calendar.

The categories are:

Gatherings
Paddocks
Christmas
Aussie Aussie Aussie
Summer
Naughtiest (Lowlines Only)
Showtime
All Blacks
Winter
Close ups
Companions
Babies

Photo entries can be sent to lowline@abri.com.au, or they can be posted on the Australian Lowline Cattle Association Facebook Page. Please consider all themes throughout the year. Deadlines will be given throughout the year for each theme. Starting themes are GATHERINGS, PADDOCKS, and CHRISTMAS.
ENTRIES CLOSE: 31st DECEMBER 2014 for Gatherings, Paddocks, and Christmas.

When entering your photo, please include what theme you have entered each photo in. Please note that photos will be required to have high resolution for printing. By entering your photos you give permission for ALCA to use in future promotions. Prize will be given once printing has been completed. Calendars will be for sale mid-late 2015 (they will be great Christmas Presents 2015).

All entries will be placed on the Australian Lowline Cattle Association Facebook Page for judging. The winners will be determined by the amount of likes on each photo.

So get out and get snap happy!

HERITAGE SEMEN

At the ALCA AGM Members' Forum last year, it was suggested that ALCA should have a facility to store any semen that might be donated to ALCA by retiring members, so older Lowline genetics are retained.

ALCA has now organised to have donated Lowline semen stored at the well known Bovine artificial breeding facility, Total Livestock Genetics (TGL) in Camperdown, Victoria.

The main objectives are

- To maintain heritage genetics that might otherwise be lost
- To preserve and maximize genetic diversity.
- To provide a repository for semen as members retire and wish to donate to ALCA
- To provide cost effective semen to members and indeed to non members for AI procedures to promote the Lowline breed

Donated straws will be advertised on the ALCA web site & available for sale to interested parties for a minimal fee. This will be a not-for-profit exercise as any income resulting from the sale of straws will go towards long-term storage costs of any remaining semen.

All bulls with donated semen MUST be registered with ALCA as an AI Sire. Resulting calves from the semen can be registered with ALCA provided the usual DNA & PV are provided & fees are paid.

ALCA offers this opportunity to donate semen to any interested member or past member. We hope to provide this facility to preserve & safeguard Heritage Lowline genetics for future generations

Welcome Carole!

Carole Johns is our new EO and did a formidable job at the AGM and forum. She is enthusiastic, organised and helpful and will be an asset to our association. Carole will be answering any queries you have to ALCA at ABRI by phone or email.

All members will find her very easy to talk to and we welcome her to ALCA!

SLOGANS NEEDED!

We all love “A little bull goes a long way” and our other slogans. With the reprinting of a lot of promotional material, ALCA would like input from members as any slogans they would like to use. So to get you thinking and contributing ALCA would love to have you submit your ideas and perhaps win a prize - $50 of merchandise of your choosing! Open to all members, schools, youth and even the grown ups!

Send your slogans to Carole at lowline@abri.com.au .

You have until the last day in November to get your entry in! So as well as getting snap happy, put the thinking caps on and send in your slogan. I'll start – mine is “More beef, Less land!” Your turn.....
